

Moozie Walks in Line

Objective: to teach the value of walking in line, and safety

Moozie was lying in the pasture with her cow friends one day.
She was looking over Farmer Ted's farm and animals.

She noticed the mama duck with her ducklings crossing the drive to go to the pond.
Mama duck was in front and the ducklings were in a line behind her.
She quacked to them to stay in line so they could safely make it to the pond.
Mama duck felt proud that her ducklings safely crossed the drive in a line.

Moozie looked to her left where she saw the sheep scattered over the hill.
Mama sheep baa-ed to her lambs.
They all ran to her side and walked in line to the shade tree to rest.
Mama sheep was proud of her lambs.

Then Moozie noticed mama cat and her kittens next to the barn.
Mama cat meowed to her kittens and they ran to her side...all except one.
She meowed again to the kitten, but the kitten did not come.
Mama cat went to her kitten and gently picked the kitten up with her mouth and placed it safely with the others.
Moozie thought the mama cat was very kind as they walked to the barn in a line.

Moozie noticed the cows were beginning to move toward the barn for milking.
She looked at them walking in line.
Each cow followed the others, making a long line.
Moozie got up and joined the line.
It didn't matter to her if she was 1st in line, in the middle, or at the end of the line.
She was happy to be with her friends going to the barn.

Walking in line is being kind!
MOO
Moozie says, "Always Be Kind"

Teacher tip- give Moozie to a child to carry...sometimes at the beginning, middle or end of your line
